

Create jobs & revenue by processing Australia mineral resources here instead of overseas.

What Australia makes, makes Australia

If we want a strong economy, we have to make things. Japan has become the world's third largest economy by processing Australian resources. Wages in Japan are higher and their production costs are more expensive, yet we sell our mineral ores at a low price per tonne and Japan sells the final processed products for 10,000 times more. We can maximise the mineral resource wealth of Western Australia and Queensland by developing downstream processing and manufacturing in other states.
